Hi Shantanu,

It has been a great experience working alongside you on the PepsiCo RGM project.

Working closely with you on the Price Range Evaluation and Brand Ladder dashboards, the PBNA dashboard, and the wider segment-level reporting, what stood out to me was how much you took on and how well you handled it. You resolved a large number of existing bugs and issues — often the difficult, long-standing ones — and whenever something broke or drifted out of line, you took it on priority and got it fixed quickly. That steadily made the reports more stable and more dependable for everyone relying on them.

What I appreciated most is that you never stopped at just delivering what was asked. You consistently thought from the user's point of view, and that mindset led to real enhancements that made the reports clearer and easier to work with. You took complete ownership of everything you delivered, and more often than not went a step further — thinking through edge cases and better ways to solve a problem rather than settling for the quickest fix.

Alongside that, your grasp of the data and the underlying logic was strong, and you stayed reliable on timelines even when the work was genuinely complex. You were also a pleasure to collaborate with — open, responsive, and always willing to work things through together.

Thank you for the ownership, the proactive thinking, and the attitude you brought to the project. It was a real pleasure building alongside you, and I have no doubt you'll keep doing excellent work in whatever you take on next.

Best Regards,

Dharma
